The Wingspan Gypsies are an amazing group of young students. In this innovative summer program children will create an original musical theatre piece. Wingspan Gypsies focus on creativity and the nurturing of children's inherent acting and writing skills. Students will learn the fundamentals of musical theatre: playmaking, acting, singing, and dancing using imagination games as well as formal classes. A creative drama program at heart, our gypsies are also stretched to expand their writing and musical horizons. Each day students are taken on a journey through all of these skills with multiple professionals in those fields.

Our staff consists of professional teaching artists with years of experience working with students of this age, as well as interns in arts and arts education - all college level or above.

Students will also have a chance to play outdoors every day. Come join the fun!

A Typical Day for a Gypsy

Morning/ Each morning students will have two periods of either playwriting or songwriting where they will create original material for their play

Noon/ Lunch

Early afternoon/ Afternoons are spent on honing performance skills, whether it is acting, singing, dancing or a "special" in another art form that will be highlighted in their play

Afternoon/ Snack and park time

Late afternoon/ Rehearsing the show as well as arts & crafts projects to build sets, props, and costumes

Session 1 students will create a fully original student driven piece; Session 2 uses some previously published materials as a jumping off point. Many students attend both sessions.

TUITION $1500 1st session/$1000 2nd session/
$2300 for both sessions
