

Wingspan Arts In-School Programming

We work with school leadership to address arts education needs and create a multi-disciplinary program specific to each school partner.

How do we begin?

Let's talk!

Each of our residencies starts with a conversation. What arts education do the students currently receive? What grades and classes are you thinking of? What arts discipline would get them excited about learning?

Then, let's meet!

Wingspan Arts staff will come to you, and we can brainstorm content, calendar, and budget in-person. This gives us a chance to visit the school space and design the most effective arts residency.

Program Information

Wingspan Arts' residencies are customized for each school and we can work within any budget.

Here is an example of the range of our current programs.
